

WELCOME TO PROVIDENCE

A message from Mayor Angel Taveras

Providence is well on its way to becoming America's most livable city.

Its remarkable quality of life, extraordinary knowledge and creative economies, world-class colleges and universities, highly-trained and motivated workforce, proximity to multi-modal transportation and access to multi-million dollar markets make this city a great choice for your business location and expansion needs.

We're winning international headlines and national awards for creating a richly diverse, exciting city that cares as much about its tradition as its future. We are a place that is great for business and a great place to live and work.

Visit Providence and learn about our exciting arts and cultural vibrancy, historic architecture, world-class research and higher educational institutions, superior restaurants, remarkable public services and infrastructure, job development and training resources. You'll discover why Providence the Creative Capital is the right choice for you.
